

CHS Nine Gains District Finals

A resounding 7-0 victory at Columbus South yesterday enabled the Circleville Tiger baseball nine to advance to the finals of the Central District Class AA Tournament, a feat never accomplished before in modern CHS diamond history.

The victory, the result of a determined team effort, gave the Tigers their third straight tournament win and the right to meet Linden McKinley of Columbus Saturday in the district finals.

The big game will be played at Grandview High School's diamond, starting at 4 p. m., following St.

Charles' Class AA finals test with Cardington which begins at 1 p. m. There are two bracket finals in Class AA.

In winning their eighth straight contest and 11th in 13 outings, the Tigers ripped into a well-balanced South team for six runs in the second inning and an insurance marker in the sixth. South retaliated with four runs in its half of the third and made the game reach fever pitch with single runs in the sixth and seventh.

Don Rowland performed on the mound like the veteran he is to post his sixth straight victory without a loss. He was touched for nine hits throughout the long afternoon, but he also fired three strikes past nine batters and didn't walk a man.

CIRCLEVILLE exploded for seven hits, five of them in the second inning uprising, and made all of them count. Lanky Bob Carver of South was tagged with the loss as he fanned one, walked two and hit one batter.

The game reached a hectic stage in the seventh when South's Dick Bishop singled to left field to drive in Kenny Lee to narrow the count to 7-6. Jim Cordell, South's ace centerfielder, attempted to reach third on Bishop's single, but a perfect throw from leftfielder Jake Bailey to third baseman Ray Phifer caught the runner with room to spare.

This play ended the game and signaled Circleville's entry into the district finals.

Circleville's mighty uprising for a bid in the tournament finals was started in the second inning when Rich Greenlee, Jim Woods and Ray Phifer punched consecutive singles to bring in one run. Bailey reached first when Carver bobbled his bunt and Phifer came home as South's shortstop couldn't find the handle on a grounder by Cal Ellis.

Bailey was forced at home on Bill Purcell's bunt, but Rowland kept the fire going with a sharp single to center which scored Ellis and Terry Dean who had walked. Harry Strawser then poked a single over third base to plate Purcell and Rowland and run the count to 6-0.

South came roaring back with vengeance in the third to score four runs on five hits and an error. Carver started the rally with a single, Lee reached first on an error and then Cordell, Noble, Bishop and Miller cracked successive one-baggers to account for the scoring.

Circleville got its seventh run of the game in the sixth when Bailey was hit by a pitch and Terry Dean sacrificed him to second with a bunt. Bailey went to third on a wild pitch and Purcell promptly chased him home with a clean single into center field.

SOUTH's final effort came in the seventh when Lee got on by an error and Cordell, smacking his (Continued on Page Two)

Dick Snouffer
New Assistant
CHS Principal

Richard K. Snouffer, head basketball coach at Circleville High School, has been named assistant principal in charge of guidance at CHS.

Snouffer said his position is part of a new program at Circleville in the way of vocational counseling and guidance. The popular teacher will retain his post as head basketball coach.

Snouffer led the Tigers to a commendable 10-9 game record last season and SNOUTER already has devoted much time to guiding and counseling students at CHS.

His work in the guidance field will center around testing, determining aptitude and dealing with vocational interests of local high school pupils. He will serve as a special assistant to Principal J. Wray Henry.

SNOUTER said today that the need for counseling and guidance has been established at CHS just as it has in other high schools throughout the nation. He noted that he was looking forward to working with local students.

Coach Snouffer, his wife Patty, and son, Chet Allen, live at 916 Lincoln Drive.

Puts Down Foot On Berlin Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will refuse to go to a summit conference if the Russians carry out their threat to turn East Berlin over to the East German Communists.

He will take the same stand if the Soviets sign a separate peace treaty with puppet East Germany.

Any such one-sided Soviet action in the next few weeks undoubtedly would wreck the Big Four foreign ministers conference due to begin in Geneva Monday.

This American attitude became known authoritatively a few hours before Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's scheduled take-off for pre-conference strategy talks with the British and French foreign ministers.

Herter himself already has served notice that the Russians must match concession for concession to end the danger of war.

Even as Herter arranged to leave, the three Allies were reportedly already arguing with the Soviets over where to sit to discuss the German deadlock.

In Geneva, Soviet diplomats insisted the talks take place around a round table. Western diplomats were holding out for a square table.

Despite pressure for a summit talk regardless of progress in Geneva, Eisenhower was reported insisting the foreign ministers first must make concrete gains in easing the Berlin crisis and other German problems.

This means, informants said, that mere agreement at Geneva on a time, place and agenda for a summit meeting would not be enough to convince him that a conference with Russia's Nikita Khrushchev would be worth while.

Herter outlined America's position for the East-West talks starting Monday in a nationally broadcast address Thursday night.

Herter's maiden speech won praise from Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, as "candid" and "statesmanlike."

In his half-hour address the new secretary pledged firmness and intent to negotiate in good faith. He called on the Communists too for "businesslike negotiations and not a propaganda exercise."

He set forth three basic guidelines of Western policy for the negotiations and summed them up, saying:

"The heart of our policy can be clearly and simply said to be this: A Germany reunited in freedom, a security system linked with arrangements for arms control, and in the interim a free and secure Berlin."

Herter said that in the Geneva talks, the West would "honestly and in good faith seek some advance, even if small, toward a just peace."

He ruled out fear and appeasement in negotiating with the Reds, who set off the current crisis by proposing moves that could force the Allies to turn over West Berlin.

But he cautioned against great expectations from the Geneva parley. He said the past record of the Soviets shows "the best we can look for is slow progress toward the ultimate goal of international stability which only a just peace will bring."

Carole Weiler May Queen at Ohio State

Circleville beauty, Carole Weiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weiler, 204 N. Pickaway St., today reigned as May Queen at Ohio State University.

She was crowned yesterday for the annual May Week parade on the OSU campus. Then she paraded around the campus oval, sitting in the back of a convertible car.

Carole was the only freshman of the five final May Queen candidates who were chosen in a campus-wide election May 6. The coed with the most votes—Carole—was named queen and the next four were named attendants.

She was chosen from an original field of 30 girls. Twenty were eliminated by judges, and the final 10 put on skits for all university halls and fraternity houses just prior to the election.

Carole presented two rose bouquets, one white and the other red. She was dressed in white with a violet cape to indicate royalty. In separate cars were her attendants, Sue Crawford, Toledo; Judy Finley, Columbus; Gloria Gerstein, Newton, Mass.; and Nancy Baxter, Lima.

CAROLE, a student in nursing at OSU, is a 1958 graduate of Circleville High School. She was chosen Miss Circleville for the 1957 Pumpkin Show and then was picked as second attendant to the queen. In 1958 she was football queen at CHS.

She represented Bradley Hall in the OSU May Queen competition.

Soviet A-Power Ship Engines Test Out OK

LONDON (AP)—Engines of the Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker Lenin have been successfully tested and the vessel is almost ready for launching. Moscow radio said today.

The 16,000-ton icebreaker carries three atomic reactors. "The engines, using electricity produced by atomic power, will have 44,000 horse power — twice as powerful as those of the biggest American icebreaker," the broadcast said.

Stoutsville Accepted by County Board

Battle Looms
On Question of Shift to Pickaway

The Pickaway County Board of Education will accept the transfer of the Clearcreek Twp. Local School District, Fairfield County on July 1, it was announced today by County Superintendent George D. McDowell.

The acceptance by the County Board was based on the fact that the Logan Elm Board of Education earlier stated it would accept Clearcreek Local into its consolidated district.

McDowell said the acceptance was in answer to the Fairfield County Board of Education's March 3rd notification that it was refusing to approve the transfer of Clearcreek Local to the Pickaway County school system.

Logan Elm accepted Clearcreek Local (Stoutsville) upon receipt of certification of its successful election desiring a move to Pickaway County from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

CLEARCREEK LOCAL voters decided in the November, 1958 general election to merge with Logan Elm. The vote was 339 for transferring to Logan Elm and 228 against. This was a majority vote of 59.9 per cent.

According to state law, when voters of a district decide by a majority vote to enter another school district, it is mandatory upon both the local and county boards of education to approve such transfer.

The Fairfield Board is basing its refusal to transfer on the opinion that the November 1958 election was not duly and legally constituted.

It was referring to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot" which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek Board of Education.

The Clearcreek Board has voted, 3-2, against consolidation with Logan Elm. Those in favor of consolidation contend that the voters balked with the intent to transfer to Logan Elm and were not concerned with how it would be done.

Both sides of the issue have hired attorneys. Those for consolidation have employed Joseph Asher, Columbus. Those against have hired Robert E. Johnson, Lancaster.

Asher stated recently that he will take the issue to the Ohio Supreme Court if the Fairfield County Board doesn't transfer the territory by July 1.

News Briefs

CHICAGO (AP)—An FBI informer whose 15-year pose as a Communist brought him insults, a beating and the scorn of acquaintances, says the Reds have infiltrated the United Packinghouse Workers Union throughout the nation.

Joseph A. Poskonka, 57, of Chicago, threw aside his disguise Thursday when he told the House Un-American Activities Committee of the years abuse he suffered from persons who thought he was a Communist.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel negotiators were expected to recess weeklong preliminary contract talks today for a few days' respite to digest economic arguments exchanged this week.

NEW YORK (AP)—Space age stocks, motors and chemicals paced a smart rebound early this afternoon from Thursday's sharp stock market break. Trading was quite active.

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—An unofficial government forecast of rising prosperity for the next 12 months or longer found general agreement today among the country's top industrialists—but with some reservations.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Oddballs who harass Ohio citizens with crank—or obscene—telephone calls had better watch their step. The Ohio Senate Thursday virtually completed legislative action on a bill to provide fines of up to $500 and jail sentences of up to six months for such telephone conduct.

Defense Aide Don Quarles Dies in Sleep

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles died today.

Quarles, second ranking defense official since 1957 and former secretary of the Air Force, died in his sleep.

Quarles was born in Van Buren, Ark., July 30, 1894.

The deputy defense chief had not been ill, so far as friends knew. Quarles had been mentioned as a possible successor for Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy, who has announced his intention to leave the top Pentagon post late this year.

Quarles was an official of the Western Electric Co. and a resident of New Jersey when he entered government service.

He was vice president of Western Electric and president of Sandia Corp., a subsidiary which operates the Sandia Special Weapons Laboratory at Albuquerque, N.M., for the Atomic Energy Commission.

In 1953 President Eisenhower appointed Quarles an assistant secretary of defense for research and development.

Quarles became secretary of the Air Force in August 1955.

He is survived by his widow and three children.

By a former marriage, Quarles has two daughters and a son, Carolyn Anne, Mrs. Stanley C. Lewis, and Donald Aubrey Jr.

Quarles has served as acting head of the big Defense Department on many occasions when the defense secretary was absent.

Chevrolet retained its lead in motor vehicle sales with 31, three more than March, and five more than its next closest competitor, Ford with 26.

OLDSMOBILE maintained its third place position with 10 automobile sales, three less than the previous month. Plymouth moved from sixth to fourth place with eight sold.

Other motor vehicle sales were Pontiac and Studebaker, 7; DeSoto, house trailers and Rambler, 6; Buick, 5; motorcycles, motorcooters and Autocar, 4;

Mercury, 3; Dodge, 2, and Volkswagen, Triumph, Cadillac, GMC and Divo, 1. Motor vehicle sales to out-of-county residents are not listed here.

third hit of the day, moved him up with a single into right.

Bishop then put the pressure on CHS by lining a single into left, scoring Lee to make the count, 7-6. Cordell, trying desperately to reach third on the hit, was tagged out by Bailey's perfect throw.

PANAMA (AP)—Panama today pulled back troops rushed to the Caribbean coast during the invasion crisis and reported only one rebel of a force which landed two weeks ago still at large.

4 Whites Plead Innocent To Raping of Negro Coed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Four white men charged with raping a Negro college girl pleaded innocent at their arraignment today.

A moan went up from the gallery crowded with Negroes as the men entered their pleas. The outcry was quickly suppressed by a call for order in the court.

The trial was set for May 27. Sheriff Bill Joyce had announced previously that all four had confessed to the mass rape.

One of the court-appointed defense attorneys, Harry Michaels, objected to the early trial date, saying he wanted more time to prepare his case. But Circuit Judge W. May Walker overruled his objections.

Pleas of the four were delayed about an hour while attempts were made to provide them with attorneys.

None of the men had lawyers of his own at the start of the proceedings, although the wife of Williston T. Collinsworth later arranged for an attorney for him.

The gallery was packed with Negro spectators and the courtroom floor with white onlookers.

The four, two teen-agers and two in their 20s, were indicted Wednesday by a grand jury five days after the 19-year-old coed said she was taken to a lonely patch of woods and raped repeatedly. All have confessed.

The maximum penalty for rape is death, but if a jury recommends mercy the sentence can be life imprisonment or a lesser term at the discretion of the judge.

The men, all residents of Tallahassee, are Patrick Scarborough, 20; Ollie Stoutamire, 16; David Ervin Beagles, 18; and Williston T. Collinsworth, 24.

'Missing' Family To Stay In Nevada, Pay Off Debts

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Although their forgiving home town wants them back, a young family that disappeared from Minnesota four months ago plans to stay in Nevada until the father works out his financial problems.

Debt-ridden Earl Zrust, 30, his wife and their five children were found in Reno Thursday by a finance company which repossessed their automobile. The family had left Silver Lake, Minn., without a trace.

They came to Reno April 21 after living in three California communities — Sacramento, San Luis Obispo and Pismo Beach—where Zrust worked as a brick layer. He is working now on a school project at Loyaltan, Calif., 50 miles north of Reno.

He was upset when met by reporters and seemed on the verge of tears. Finally he commented: "I want to go back when I get the bills squared away. I want to be left alone to think. I don't want any help from anybody. I have a good steady job and I'd like to stay here."

In Silver Lake, where Zrust was a general contractor and a former city councilman, Mayor Joe Gehlen said Zrust and his family "will be welcomed with open arms any time they want to come back."

The family abruptly left Silver Lake, a town of 600 population, 40 miles west of Minneapolis, Dec. 29. Their house, with all its furnishings, was left unlocked. Nothing was said to their relatives.

The family made no attempt to conceal its identity in California or Nevada and Mrs. Zrust expressed surprise they were reported as missing.

"We just wanted time to work things out," she told Police Capt. William Broadhead.

Safety Check Lanes Readied

Boy Scouts and members of local civic clubs have completed the preliminary preparations for the vehicle check lanes to be set up Saturday.

The lanes will be established on N. Pickaway St., just north of the Hargus Creek bridge. They will be manned by Boy Scouts from local troops and civic club members.

Cub Scouts have been obtaining pledges to have cars inspected from their parents and friends and urging them to "pass the word" so that as many cars as possible may be checked.

The check lanes will be open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and it is expected that sufficient lanes will be in operation at all times so that only a few minutes will be required to inspect any car coming in for a check.

THE TEN-point check will include tires, exhaust, glass, windshield wiper, horn, brakes, steering, front lights, rear lights and stop lights.

Local citizens are urged to bring their cars in for the safety check and aid in checking accidents.

Deaths and Funerals

ADA ALDENDERFER

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada Aldenderfer, born Sept. 20, 1881, in Pickaway County, the daughter of Isaac and Mary Lutz Morris, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Lowell Bassett officiating. Burial will be in Imbler Cemetery.

Friends may call beginning 4 p. m. Saturday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

High Schools Eligible for Science Aid

Pickaway County superintendents and supervising principals were informed Thursday afternoon of the availability of $11 per classroom science unit from the Federal Government.

County Superintendent George D. McDowell stated the Federal money would be used for science guidance and counseling.

He explained this was part of the Federal Government's drive to interest more high school students into fields of science to combat Russia's alleged strides in the fields of space exploration.

This newly passed National Defense Act also allows $1.25 per science pupil if it is utilized before July 1.

IF NOT, the allotment drops to $1 per pupil after July 1. This money is to be used for vocational guidance and testing.

Those attending the meeting voted to have the Manton tuberculosis test administered county pupils to determine if any have signs of this dreaded disease.

Sultan of Johore Dies at Age 85

LONDON (AP)—The Sultan of Johore, one of the last of the fabulously wealthy eastern potentates who never changed his fabled ways, died Thursday night. Maj. Gen. Sir Ibrahim, the 85-year-old ruler of the small, rich rubber state at the tip of the Malay peninsula, succumbed in a luxurious hotel suite in London, where he was as well known and respected as in his native land.

The 6-foot-2-inch Sultan was stricken with influenza two months ago and never made a full recovery. His advanced age was a major factor.

The Sultan's 65-year-old son, Tunku Mahkota (crown prince) Ismail, succeeds to the title. He was en route to London by plane when his father died.

Steel Industry Probe Is Asked

Union Sees Violation Of Trust, Labor Laws

NEW YORK (AP)—The Steelworkers Union has charged the steel industry with violating the antitrust laws and labor relations laws and asked the government to investigate.

Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, said law violations are involved in industry disclosures of plans it may invoke to deal with a possible July 1 industry strike.

Goldberg outlined his charges in letters to Atty. Gen. William Rogers and to Jerome D. Fenton, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board.

The union's general counsel said he wanted to emphasize that the union had mapped no strike strategy in the event no contract agreements are achieved before present pacts expire June 30.

He said this strategy, when and if necessary, will be decided by the union's Policy Committee.

But Goldberg said that as union general counsel he had to protest against apparent industry strike arrangements that he considered to be illegal.

Goldberg did not request that formal Taft-Hartley Act charges be brought now against the industry.

He wrote the NLRB, however, the union wants the government agency to keep abreast of the situation so that if only one or two steel companies are ventually struck, and other steel firms close down voluntarily in sympathy, the NLRB could move fast.

John F. Murray, a Pittsburgh official of the union, said the union "is eventually going to win its demands even if we have to strike to do it."

Murray, director of the union's District 16, and a cousin of the union's late President Philip Murray, said the public and industry are underestimating the union's solidarity and determination to gain a sizeable wage boost and other concessions.

Murray's comments were made off-the-cuff to reporters as he headed a union bargaining team back into talks with Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

The J & L talks had broken up Wednesday on their opening day over a union demand that J & L put all its plants and subsidiaries under common contract terms.

Murray said there are too many varying J & L contracts now. J & L Industrial Relations Vice President George Placus said the company seeks to continue separate contracts to fit local situations.

The J & L talks resumed this morning with this problem unsolved and put aside for further discussion later.

Murray emphasized that the union is determined to win its demands even if it takes a strike to do it.

Both the industry and union have been trying to play down the possibility of a strike in talk-

Soviet Lags Behind On Food Marketing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today the Soviet Union lags far behind the United States in its marketing system for farm and food products. This was said to handicap the Soviet people in achieving the good diets and standard of living they so badly want. Information on the Soviet marketing setup was obtained by a team of department economists who visited the Soviet Union last year under an exchange arrangement.

Horatio Alger Awards Tell Yankee Story

NEW YORK (AP)—The traditional American success story—the poor boy who overcomes all difficulties to rise to fame and fortune—was hailed once more today with presentation of the 13th annual Horatio Alger Awards.

Among the recipients was Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who once delivered groceries at $2 a week to buy books while attending school in Elizabeth, N.J.

Another was Alfred C. Fuller, the original "Fuller Brush man," who parlayed an idea and a lot of determination into a multimillion dollar business enterprise and a worldwide reputation.

The awards are named for Horatio Alger, whose long series of books many years ago spotlighted the youth of humble beginnings who worked his way to success by dint of industry and ingenuity.

Bronze plaques were presented to the latest group of Alger Award winners by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, national chairman of the Horatio Alger Awards committee of the American Schools and Colleges Assn. The ceremony took place at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Recipients included: Albert J. Berdis, president of the Weirton Steel Co., Weirton, W. Va., a man who worked in a steel mill to pay his way through college.

John F. Ernsthause, president and founder of the Norwalk Truck Lines, Inc., of Norwalk, Ohio, a onetime farm boy who saved his money, bought three used trucks and built a huge trucking enterprise.

Carpenter said the "check" would be cashed, despite obvious depreciation in the shorts.

Too Much Money Around?

A theory is widely prevalent that inflation has been caused by unions pushing wage rates up and by business men passing the cost increases to the public in higher prices.

Yale Brozen, economics professor at the Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago, goes back to the more classical concept of inflation as caused by large increases in the supply of money.

From January, 1947, through December, 1952, he finds, Federal Reserve Board policies had increased the supply of money by 19 per cent. Since that time, and up to December, 1958, the board's policies have been more restrictive. The quantity of money increased 9 per cent during that period. As a result there was less inflation in the last six years than during the preceding six years.

In the period 1940-51, the quantity of money increased from $39 billion to $110 billion, or 180 per cent. That was out of all proportion to population gains and the economic needs of the nation.

"With more money in their pockets," explains Professor Brozen, "consumers tried to buy more goods. Since the stock of money could purchase more goods at current prices than could be produced, shortages developed or prices were bid up to levels which absorbed all the money consumers wanted to spend."

This course was followed by the board, says Brozen, because the federal government had large deficits in this period. It offered bonds at low interest rates to finance the deficits but obtained insufficient money by that route. So the Federal Reserve bought the bonds and provided banks with more funds so they could buy them.

The Chicago University professor concludes that inflation is not possible without an increasing supply of money. The solution is in the policies of the Reserve Board and in the policies of the federal government which ought to be seeking budgetary surpluses instead of deficits.

There's Magic in Manhattan

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—New York is a beautiful town.

Right now after a hard spring and a winter so stern its icicles stuck out like cactus thorns, eight million New Yorkers listen to the drum of revival.

In the warm, bright air, Manhattan turns toward tomorrow with a yawn of sureness.

It is wonder all over. Now you don't know where the next bud or smile or traffic ticket will bloom from.

The sun, emerging from weeks of clouds, breaks out dark glasses and decrees ten times ten million freckles.

The magic moment of difference has come. The policeman gives an unfinished lecture. Traffic goes more slowly than usual because this is a day when everybody is going to be later than usual and not mind it.

At this time of the year, New York gives you the feeling of a bubble coming out of a bottle.

The town has an ever-renewable champagne excitement.

New York is the place where George Washington was sworn in as president and gruff Mark Twain growled about his chow and put out the "welcome mat" for mysterious strangers from heaven.

New York is a seedbed of talent, known or unknown.

New York is a place of adventure to strangers. Millions journey around the world to see it.

New York is as colloquial as the smallest country town, able with its gossip to stir mighty echoes.

New York is the world's greatest landscape for dreamers, a pasture beyond individual ownership.

New York is the most open and hospitable municipality in the land. It's the kind of place where the first thing a guy wants to do when he comes here is to bring in a relative.

New York is the only city in the world which has a running race over whether it can tear itself down faster than it can build itself up.

Top-Notchers Shun Government

By George Sokolsky

One of the problems of a free society is to be both free and efficient. It is not as easy to do as the phrase is to be spoken.

In such a society, men are often chosen for office for reasons other than competence and efficiency. Appearance, geniality, affability, good-fellowship, a wise marriage, membership in numerous organizations, and other similar reasons may elevate a man to elective positions; contributions to campaign funds, friendships with elected officers and sheer top-notch ability may influence appointment to office.

Career men are not necessarily able men nor are they necessarily incompetent. However, the best minds in the United States have for a century or more, say since the Civil War, gone into business, industry and the law.

These extraordinarily constructive persons have built the structure of production and distribution which knows no superior on Earth. They retire generally at an early age, say 65, and have many years of usefulness ahead of them.

Occasionally, the Government of the United States is able to co-opt or capture one of these extraordinarily competent men for government service. During war-time, it is easy because patriotism and even social pressure stimulate a desire to serve the country.

In peacetime, it is more difficult.

Reds Call Ike Plan 'Halfway Measure'

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow radio today called President Eisenhower's plan to ban nuclear weapons tests up to altitudes of 30 miles a "dangerous halfway measure" and said the Soviet Union could not agree to it.

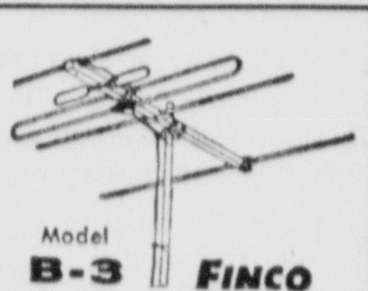

The broadcast used stronger language than Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev did on April 25 when he said Eisenhower's proposal "will not solve the problem." He did not reject it outright.

Moscow radio charged the West with trying to avoid a solution of the question of tests and declared the plan suggested by Eisenhower "would not safeguard people against the disastrous effects of radiation."

The five acts of Eugene O'Neill's Pulitzer Prize Play, "Strange Interlude," opened on Broadway in 1928. It ran for 426 nights.

A GROUP OF distinguished young doctors took it upon themselves to make a chemical analysis of women, and turned in this shattering report:

SYMBOL: WO.

AVERAGE WEIGHT:

118.

OCCURRENCE: Where-

ever man is found.

PHYSICAL PROPERTIES:

Great attraction to gold, milk and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone. Able to absorb incredible amounts of expensive food matter. Turn green when placed beside better-looking specimens. Useful as an equalizer in the Reason for Antibiotic Failure

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Why do some of our antibiotics fail?

Why is it that some drugs which were so helpful in the fight against microbes a scant few years ago are now of little help in many cases?

Why is it that the spread of antibiotic-resistant staphylococcus bacteria is now a cause for concern?

The answer is simple, although the explanation for the answer is somewhat more complicated.

The fact is that we have not yet conquered the disease microbe. We have made great inroads and our control is growing tighter. But it is not complete.

Here's why:

The biological process of natural selection affects microbes as well as humans.

Human generations are spaced about 20 years apart. Microbes, however, act at a tremendously faster rate. The streptococcus, for example, produces a new generation every 35 minutes and the tuberculosis bacillus every two days.

Thus, the microbes have a much faster ability than man to produce mutants, strains which appear spontaneously and are able to survive hostile changes in environment. Therefore, the presence of an antibiotic deadly to their non-mutant relatives, is not harmful to this new generation.

Let's take an example.

Microbes cause an infection. A physician administers an antibiotic which strikes the microbes a fatal blow by either interfering with their nutritional or reproductive process. All the millions of microbes causing the infection are wiped out — all except one.

Because of mutation this microbe produces a substance which inactivates the antibiotic. That is the only respect in which it differs from the others which were destroyed. But that is enough.

This microbe begins the reproduction process and all of its progeny inherit the ability to inactivate the antibiotic. In the course of time it doesn't take long — this new microbial colony produces another infection.

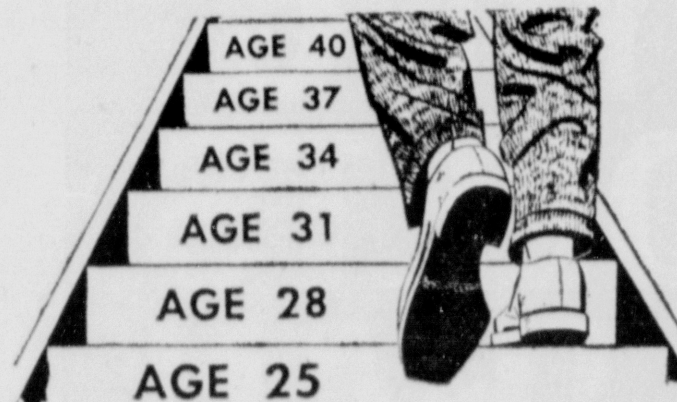

When the same antibiotic is used again, it has no effect, and another antibiotic must be tried.

Fortunately, new antibiotics such as Albamycin and others are being constantly produced and we continue to gain in our war against the microbes. But it appears to be a never-ending struggle.

Question and Answer

Answer: Tiredness and lack of energy usually are the symptoms of low blood pressure and except for the discomfort to the individual, it has no important effect.

As we advance in age every man sooner or later will cross the line of insurability when he can no longer buy life insurance, or must pay higher rates for it.

Now . . . for the first time a revolutionary new idea that guarantees your "insurability" to age 40 . . . gives you the right to buy added insurance at standard rates, REGARDLESS OF HEALTH.

This new concept was introduced by Bankers Life Company. It is designed to answer the age-old insurance question: "When I need more insurance and can afford it—will I be able to get it?"

Think what this means to the man just starting out in the business world . . . the young doctor . . . lawyer . . . men who know they will want more life insurance as they "grow". For only pennies-a-day more than the cost of an ordinary plan they can NOW guarantee the right to buy additional insurance later — REGARDLESS OF HEALTH.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson—consciously or not—has created an image of himself which will come in handy if the Democrats in 1960 have to keep peace in the family by settling on a compromise presidential candidate.

This is the image of the tall Texan which emerges after his years as leader of the Senate Democrats and one of the most powerful men in Washington: A rather conservative compromiser who gets things done.

The 50-year-old Johnson, who, like President Eisenhower, had a heart attack, has pool-pooled the thought of presidential ambitions. This writer is one of those who has never been convinced.

Johnson, like others in public life, has a large ego. And to him power, even if it only means senatorial power and doesn't extend to the presidency, is very important. The White House carries with it supreme power and balm for egos.

The Democrats' overwhelming congressional victory in 1958, which meant they could now drown the Republicans in votes, caused some persons to guess that they would take a strong liberal turn and consider their victory a mandate to do so.

Others in Washington, remembering something, took a more limited view: Johnson and his counterpart in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, a fellow-Texan, not only completely bossed Democrats in Congress but have shown themselves over the years to be essentially conservative.

So it could be assumed that with their power and attitude they would lead Congress down a middle road. And that's what they've done so far in this first session after last year's election triumph.

But to any Northern liberals dissatisfied with his leadership, Johnson can offer a solid and realistic explanation:

True, the Democrats as a party far outnumber Senate Republicans. But Democrats and Republicans are divided up into a small group of liberals and a big majority of conservatives in both parties, particularly among Southern Democrats.

On any issue they considered too liberal, the conservatives of both parties could and would team up, throwing aside party labels.

Yet, on the liberal side Johnson can point to something no liberal or any other Senate leader in this century can claim: He engineered through the Senate in 1957 the first civil rights program of modern times.

It was much less than the liberals wanted, much more than the Southerners could easily accept. But it was a step forward in the civil rights field, opened the door to more of the same later, and was done without splitting the Senate Democrats.

Liberals and Southern Democrats may have grumbled about Johnson's performance but he came through the experience without engendering any hostility for himself. Quite a performance, particularly if a man has presidential ambitions.

And this year again he is working to steer through some further expansion in civil rights. If he does, it's a good bet the bill again will be too little for the liberals, too much for the Southerners, but not enough either way to hurt the party or him.

Johnson acts like a man who long ago figured this way:

"In the Senate, with all its divergent views, if I ever hope to get anything done, I'll have to compromise. Some progress is better than none. And compromise between North and South is the only way I can get Democrats to stay together."

It's doubtful that in 1960 Northern liberals will make Johnson their first choice for the presidency. But if they try to ram through someone who makes the Southerners gag, a compromise candidate may be necessary.

Johnson can protest he has no presidential thoughts, but his fellow Texans are preparing, just in case: Their Legislature has passed bills which would let Johnson run for both the Senate and the presidency in 1960.

Nathan and David

THE PROPHET REVEALS GOD'S WILL REGARDING THE KING'S DESIRE TO BUILD THE TEMPLE

Scripture—II Samuel 7: 11-12; I Kings 1:5-40.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THIS LESSON is the story of David, the king of Israel, and his faithful counselor, the prophet Nathan, a true "man of God." He not only guided David's actions in his daily life, but he had the courage to rebuke the king when he sinned.

There are times in all of our lives when we need someone who is righteous and wise to help us in times when we may be confused about what we should do. We sometimes need to be shown where certain things we plan to do would be unwise and displeasing to God.

All rulers, whether they rule by succession, as in a kingdom, or are elected by the people, as in our own United States, must also have advisers to help them with their heavy responsibilities.

The dates of David's reign are accepted as 1000 to 960 B.C. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith informs us in Peloubet's Select Notes.

"When the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him rest round about from all his enemies. . . . the king said unto Nathan the prophet, See now, I dwell in an house of cedar, but the ark of God dwelleth within curtains. And Nathan said to the king, Go, do all that is in thine heart: for the Lord is with thee."—II Samuel 7:1-3.

That night, however, the Lord came to Nathan and told him to forbid David to build the temple. After David's death, said the Lord, his son should build the temple, "and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever."—II Samuel 7:4-13.

Now we must tell briefly of David's great sin. Although he had wives and children and every-thing he could possibly need, he fell in love with a beautiful woman, Bathsheba, wife of one Uriah, and he wanted her for his wife.

So when the Israelites were again at war, David sent word to the leader to place Uriah in the most dangerous place while the attack was on, so that he would be killed. Uriah was slain and David married Bathsheba.—II Samuel 11:14-17, 27.

Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

MEMORY VERSE

"Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin."—Psalms 51:2.

I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, the Lord also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die. Howbeit, because of this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die."—II Samuel 12:13-14.

So it was: the child born of David and Uriah's wife did die, although David besought the Lord to save him. And David grieved for the child.—II Samuel 12:13-19.

So David was punished for his great sin, as we all must be, whether our sins are great or small. We must live with our guilty consciences and ask the Lord to forgive us. He will if we are sincere in our prayers.

As David grew old and feeble, he appointed Solomon, one of his sons, to succeed him. One Adonijah, son of Hagith, tried to gain the throne, but the faithful Nathan and others of David's men and Bathsheba, his wife, succeeded in having Solomon proclaimed and anointed king.—I Kings 1:1-40.

Indian Art and Desert Scenes Will Be Shown At Art Exhibit

The C. F. Replogle art treasures of the West and Southwest will be a special feature of the Spring Art Exhibit beginning May 10 at the Pickaway County Courthouse. The paintings are from their private collection of art objects from the West.

Through their interest in Western and Indian arts developed an extensive project to promote Indian art in the Taos, New Mexico community. Taos, center of western natural and historic beauty is famous for its art colony, its many art galleries and schools. It is also the home of the Taos Indian and the Kit Carson Museum.

Inspired by the work of Woody

Crumbo, the Replogles set up a complete silk screen processing plant and a shop for selling hand made Indian art, crafts and jewelry. On exhibit here is the original painting in oil of the Buffalo Dancer by Woody Crumbo and a silk screen reproduction made by the Taos Indians in the Replogle studio.

Woody Crumbo, a Potawatome Indian, said to be the nation's foremost Indian artist and historian, attended Indian schools and the Universities of Wichita and Oklahoma. In 1938 he served as art director at Bacone College for Indians.

Crumbo murals adorn several Federal Buildings in Washington, D. C., including the Department of Interior Building. His originals hang in many galleries and exhibits. He has been critic and buyer for the Gilcrease Gallery in Tulsa. Some say Crumbo's painting is primitive in the Indian tradition but reflects formal art education. The paintings give an uncanny suggestion of rhythm and motion plus superb handling of color.

Thomas L. Lewis is a self-made painter having no formal education. It has been said that the desert has been his only teacher. His work is outstanding in color but he is best known for his sepia painting which he introduced in the United States. He captures the beauty of the West whether mountain or desert scene. He has galleries of his own in Taos and Scottsdale, Arizona.

Calvary WSW To Hear Hawaii Program

The WSW of Calvary EUB Church has planned a special program at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. Cliff Hedges and Mrs. Boyd Stout, who will lecture and show color slides of their recent visit to Hawaii. Mrs. Hedges has a son who is a missionary in Hawaii.

The public is cordially invited. Refreshments will be served following the program.

"Mothers' Weekend" Held At Ohio U.

Mrs. Donald Forquer, Route 1, Stoutsville, was a guest of her son, Don R., at Mother's Weekend at the Delta Upsilon Fraternity House at Ohio University last week-end.

The mothers attending were honored with a luncheon held at the OU Center. They were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. Conner, the wife of a fraternity trustee member; and a buffet dinner was held Saturday evening at the fraternity house. They also attended a Torch Sing at the Memorial Auditorium.

Circleville Art League Show To Begin Sunday

Richard L. Kersell will judge the Circleville Art League Spring Exhibit. A native of Columbus, he attended Columbus public schools and Ohio State University. He has been in the field of advertising since 1946. He has taught commercial layout and lettering at the Columbus Art School. Busy with commercial art every day, Mr. Kersell still finds time for fine arts. He favors water color but paints in oil and easel.

Twenty-five Art League members will have paintings in the exhibit to be judged. There will be ribbons in each class: oil, water color, graphics and abstract.

An engraved Silver Dish will be presented to the Grand Prize winner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Replogle. An "Arty", a ceramic creation by Mrs. Edwin Bach, will be won by the most creative artist of the show. Mr. Kersell will also judge the Junior Art League Show.

The Spring Exhibit opens at the courthouse at 7 p. m. Sunday and will hang through Saturday. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Lois Anderson Becomes Bride of Mr. Richard Kohler

Miss Lois Anderson, daughter of Mrs. John Anderson, Route 3, and the late Mr. Anderson, became the bride of Mr. Richard David Kohler at 10:30 a. m. April 25 in a double-ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Circleville. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. George O. Mason officiated at the ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kohler, Youngstown.

The bride wore a white waltz-length gown with an extremely full skirt. It featured a white satin bolero and sash that was tied in a butterfly bow with cascading streamers. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Marvin Butt, Columbus, her sister and her only attendant, wore a lime green chiffon gown. Her bouquet was of white roses and carnations.

Robert Kohler, Youngstown, the brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue lace gown; her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Kohler wore a light brown chiffon gown with a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother. Hostesses were Mrs. Lawrence Selby, sister of the bride, Mrs. Louise Morrison, Clarksville, and Mrs. Robert Nelson, Columbus.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Florida the bride was wearing a black linen dress with matching cape and black and white accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kohler are employees of Nationwide Insurance Co., Columbus.

Mr. Kohler is planning to take a new position with Nationwide in Hamilton where they will make their home.

Judy Mae Rose Bride of Ashville Man

Mrs. Ted Hall, Norwalk, Ohio, announces the marriage of her daughter Judy Mae Rose, to Mr. Robert Aldenderfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Aldenderfer, Ashville.

The wedding took place at 10 a. m. April 24 in the Ashville EUB Church with the Rev. Carl Groff officiating.

The new Mrs. Aldenderfer attended school in Waverly.

Mr. Aldenderfer is a 1937 graduate of Ashville-Harrison High School and is employed with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Columbus.

A reception was held in the home of the groom's parents following the ceremony.

The couple will reside in Ashville.

Corky Kelly Wins Laurels On Own Steam

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Corky Kelly, son of the first U.S. air hero of World War II, is going to West Point—pretty much under his own steam. His mother made the first announcement today.

He might have had the appointment by special dispensation. That would have fulfilled a request made by President Roosevelt 10 days after Pearl Harbor and seven days after the boy's father, Capt. Colm P. Kelly Jr., was killed on a Pacific bombing mission.

But Corky chose to do it the hard way — by competitive examination.

For winning the coveted appointment in this manner President Eisenhower, in a congratulatory letter, praised him highly adding that a splendid career of service to his country seemed in prospect.

At the time his father was killed, Corky—Colin III—was less than 2 years old.

In the letter, President Roosevelt asked whomever might be in the White House in 1956, he consider the boy for appointment to the academy. Roosevelt spoke of the boy as "a young American of goodly heritage."

The letter went to the national archives for safekeeping until 1956.

KILLED BY BOY—A 13-year-old boy is held in New Orleans, La., in the fatal stabbing of 12-year-old Kathy Fehler (lower) and the serious wounding of 13-year-old Judy Guillot (upper). The survivor said "a big white boy did it." The girls were on a berry picking expedition. Kathy was stabbed 36 times. The boy said he did it "because they attempted to rob me." Police withheld his name.

Legion Marks Its 40th Year

Big Veterans Group
Recalls Origin

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The American Legion, its seed planted in France in the twilight of the first World War, is celebrating its 40th anniversary.

Praised for service to veterans and the community, the legion also has been criticized on charges of ultra-nationalism, governmental meddling and too much convention horseplay.

But its critics cannot deny the influence and power of the legion with its 2,814,000 members.

The U.S. Army high command provided the spur for the birth of the legion.

After Germany had been defeated, discontent arose in the American Expeditionary Force. The war was over and the doughboys wanted to go home.

The Army high command, seeking to rub out this discontent, called 20 National Guard and Reserve officers to a Paris meeting aimed at finding ways to end the soldiers' grumbling. There was talk and some recommendations.

But some officers were thinking farther ahead.

One was Lt. Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., son of the 26th President. Roosevelt had been thinking of a veterans' organization long before the high command moved to still the foot soldiers' complaints.

With Roosevelt the prime force, the 20 men formed a unit and spread the word that a meeting would be held March 15, 1919 in Paris.

Some 1,000 officers and enlisted men flocked to Paris to a caucus, March 15-17, and the legion was on its way.

In the United States, there followed an intensive campaign to acquaint veterans with the proposed organization. In St. Louis on May 7, 1919 a general caucus of each state was held.

The legion was chartered by Act of Congress and the charter convention was held in Minneapolis Nov. 10-12, 1919.

This Saturday Legionnaires will return to downtown St. Louis to a plaque on a utility company wall—formerly the site of a theater where the legion was born — and hold rededication ceremonies.

West Berlin Unable To Hit Its Full Stride

Red Sector Gaining
In Economy; U. S.
Investments Slow

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
BERLIN (AP) — Living in a showcase is something of an ideal for West Berlin industry.

The Communist - surrounded city has made impressive strides ahead of Red - dominated East Berlin.

But Democratic West Berlin has had large subsidies to help it along its comeback trail — it's still not back to Berlin's prewar industrial and income positions.
East Berlin in recent months has made some steps toward catching up and is offering less of a contrast to the still more opulent
West.

And the Berlin crisis, while intensifying West Berlin's anti-Red spirit as shown in the May Day demonstration, has produced some nervousness among businessmen and investors.

A flight of about one million marks of savings from the city's banks (they still have 1 billion) to the safety of West Germany outside the Communist zone, and some drop in factory orders confined almost entirely to small firms.

West Berlin bankers say that trade with the United States hasn't gained as fast as West Germany's. Nor have American companies come into the city supplied from the West by sometimes threatened corridors through Communist East Germany—as they have into the federal republic.

The bankers say that American investors and businessmen have been hard to sell all along and not just since the Berlin crisis, because they always feared their customers or subscribers would be cut off at any time by Russian whim.

West Berlin uses about 24 per cent of what it produces, exports 62 per cent to West Germany, 12 per cent to other Western countries, and less than 2 per cent to Red satellites.

Industry here started almost from scratch in 1950 after the Red blockade was lifted. Industrial production has increased each year and at present is almost five times higher than in 1950.

Much of the gains are traceable to Marshall Plan dollars from the United States, interested in making a Western showcase deep in Red territory. These dollars became a revolving fund and now second generation dollars from payments on original loans — are at work financing new industrial and trade growth.

Before the war Berlin got about half of its personal income from government services it housed as the German capital. This was lost when the West German capital was placed in Bonn.

Berlin also had been stripped by the Russians of most of the industrial machinery surviving the bombings. U.S. dollar credits helped bring in new ones.

And both the government and manufacturing groups in West Germany made drives to get West German firms to buy West
Berlin products.

The current Berlin crisis spurred this drive. Dr. Paul Hertz, head of the city's office for economic and credit affairs, says there was a rush of new orders in December and again in February, probably traceable to such drives after Russia demanded Western troops leave the city unprotected.

Teacher, 33, Faces Hearing For 'Parties'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Conrad Richardson, 33, who quit Monday as a Greenhills High School teacher, will go into court Tuesday to answer a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with parties given at his home for teen-age students.

Richardson will be arraigned before Greenhills Mayor George Geisen. Greenhills is a Cincinnati suburb.

Police Chief John Baldwin said the parties, for boys ranging from 14 to 16 years of age, involved
"beer drinking and penny - ante poker."

Richardson has been director of drama and a teacher of biology, chemistry and general science at the school. Raymond A. Young, superintendent of schools, said the school board held a hearing last week as a result of the investigation by police into complaints about the parties.

He said Richardson told the board he invited the pupils to his home to help those who weren't getting along well in classes. He quoted Richardson as saying he felt he could "gain their confidence and improve their school work."

Some New Faces Expected At Political Conventions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television viewers of the 1960 national political conventions may have to become accustomed to a new cast of characters in key convention posts.

Reps. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.),
Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.), and John McCormack (D-Mass.)
may be missing from the glare of the camera spotlights.

Rayburn, speaker of the House, has presided over the past three Democratic conventions.

Martin, a 74-year-old veteran of many political wars, has wielded the gavel as permanent chairman of the past five Republican National conventions.

The 67-year-old McCormack, graduate of "the Boston school of practical politics," has headed the platform committee of three of the past four Democratic National conventions.

But the three House members may not occupy those spots in 1960 when the Democrats meet in Los Angeles and the Republicans in Chicago.

Rayburn remarked at a recent Washington social affair that he might not be chairman in 1960, that he might want to make a nominating speech. As neutral referees, convention chairmen can not make nominating speeches.

Rayburn attached no significance to the remark, which he said was made in jest. Whether he would accept the post of chairman if it were offered to him, he hasn't said. Some members of the Democratic National Committee are known to favor for the chairmanship someone less inclined than Rayburn to conciliate the party's Southern wing.

A question mark has been posed over Martin's possible role in 1960 by his ouster from the party leadership in the House. He was replaced as floor leader last January by Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. Martin hasn't commented publicly on his 1960 prospects. He reportedly would accept the post if it were offered to him.
McCormack definitely does not want to head the Platform Committee.

Letters to Solon Plead for Animals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest batch of mail received by Rep. John E. Henderson (R-Ohio) this year concerns being kind to horses.

He reported today the writers all are protesting as inhumane the wholesale hunting and capturing of unbranded horses or burros out
west.

Henderson has concluded that Americans are mostly unselfish and have a soft spot in their hearts for the animal kingdom.

On the other hand, he said,
"Events which affect them directly such as government controls or increases in taxes might provoke no action from them whatsoever."

Leukemia, a form of cancer, killed about 2,000 children last year in the U. S. Help lick this spectre by giving to the American Cancer Society Crusade.

Musial Joins List Of Men Chalking 400th Home Run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott, Lou Gehrig, Ted Williams—and now Stan Musial.

Stan the Man, one of baseball's all-time great hitters, hammered his way into that select circle of sluggers Thursday night with his 400th home run—a 400-foot shot leading off the ninth inning at St. Louis that brought the Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Musial, at 37, has only two homers in this, his 18th season, but they've come on consecutive nights. And more than coincidentally, perhaps, they've triggered the Cards' first two-game winning "streak" of the year in the National League.

The milestone missile into the right-center field pavilion at Busch Stadium coupled Musial with Williams as the only 400 home-run sluggers now in business. Ruth, of course, is the all-time leader with 714. Foxx, the only right-handed belter in the lot, finished with 534. Ott, the only other National Leaguer in the group, hit 511. Gehrig had 493. And Williams, still sidelined by injury this season, has hit 482 for the Boston Red Sox.

Musial's homer climaxed a tremendous day for first baseman in the NL. Norm Larker hit a two-run homer that gave Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over San Francisco, and Ted Kluszewski powered his first home run of the year leading off the 10th inning for a 5-4 Pittsburgh victory over Philadelphia. Those were the only games scheduled in the NL.

The homer was Musial's lone hit of the game. It came off reliever Don Elston (0-1). The Cards' other three runs also came on a homer, with pinch-hitter George Crowe delivering.

That tied it 3-all, after three

Tiger Cindermen Go to Arlington

Members of Circleville High School's track squad are slated to travel to Upper Arlington today to participate in the annual Arlington Relays.

The Tiger cindermen, taking second place in the South Central Ohio League meet at Franklin Heights Wednesday night, will be competing with some of the strongest high school tracksters in this area.

2 Softball Tilts Slated Tonight

Two games are slated tonight in Circleville Softball League action at Ted Lewis Park.

Laurelville will meet Stonerock's TV at 7:15, followed by a contest between General Electric and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ohio Fishing To Be G-R-E-A-T

Weekend Prospects Fine All Over State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Get out that fishing rod! Dig or buy plenty of bait! Head for your favorite spot! The fishing outlook is G-R-E-A-T.

That tasty morsel of news comes from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. Its weekly lake and stream report states:

"Fishing conditions throughout the state are the best yet for this year." Everything is biting—bass, bluegills, bullheads, carp, catfish, crappies, perch and walleyes, and maybe a muskie if you're lucky.

Here's how the department sums up the weekend outlook:

NORTHWEST: Fishing, for all species, should be VERY good in Crawford, DeFiance, Allen and Van Wert counties; not so good in Putnam, Wood, Wyandot, Lucas and Hardin counties, where waters in some sections are high and muddy.

NORTHEAST: Best success in Trumbull, Geauga, Huron and Mahoning counties, with bass, walleyes, bluegills, perch, bullheads, carp, catfish and crappies being taken. Ashland and Wayne counties have poor outlook, but all others in sector are ready and waiting.

EAST CENTRAL & SOUTH-EAST: Channel cats are biting furiously at Beach City, and at Lima Kiln and Atwood reservoirs. Best fishing reported in Vinton, Tuscarawas, Hocking, Jefferson and Meigs counties where suckers and all the more popular varieties are biting. Some of the other counties report water is roily.

CENTRAL & SOUTHERN: Bass are spawning in Lawrence County. Fishing is fine in Pike, Ross, Fairfield, Fayette and Delaware counties where catches include many bass, bluegills, crappies, bullheads, carp and walleyes. Elsewhere roily waters mar the outlook.

SOUTHWEST: Outlook is fair with waters clear and normal. Some sheepheads being taken in Hamilton County, and many carp in Clinton and Clermont counties. SANDUSKY BAY & LAKE — ERIE: Perch are hitting in Lincoln Bay. Sandusky County streams normal and clear, and yielding crappies, white bass and a few pickerel and carp. Erie and Ottawa Counties outlook not too good, due to roily conditions.

Ortega Given Nod To Defeat Stitch

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Gaspar Ortega is favored to beat Rudy Stitch tonight but the odds don't mean much to the revenge-minded Stitch who thought he won their first bout.

Ortega took a split decision by a single point after a bloody battle in New York Feb. 6 but suffered an eye cut that has kept him on the sidelines since.

Broncs Retain 1st Place in DV League

Ashville's baseball Broncs rolled to their fifth win in six outings in the Darby Valley League yesterday with a 9-6 victory over visiting West Jefferson.

The Broncs, holding down first place in the DVL, ran their overall record to 10-3 on the strength of Dick Wilcox's nine-hitter. The winners scored their nine runs on nine hits.

Wilcox also proved to be a valuable hitting cog as he smashed a triple and double in three trips to the plate. On the mound he fanned 10 and walked four.

Roberts, relieved by Blauter in the fourth, suffered the loss. Roberts fanned one and walked one and Blauter whiffed one and walked two.

The Broncs tallied twice in the first, three times in the second and third and once in the fourth. West Jefferson reached Wilcox for three markers in the second and three in the fourth.

Bob Hoover and Jay Gregg also starred for Ashville at the plate, each getting two bingles in three trips. West Jefferson committed five errors and the Broncs bobbled three times.

SHOWN BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

• New listing, north: Near new swimming pool, this four-room home features two bedrooms, bath, kitchen with built-in cabinets; hardwood floors, all utilities. Full basement with gas furnace; attached carport. Situated on double lot, vacant lot measures 59'x120'. Call Robt. Rowland, GR 4-2455 for details.
• East, four miles from town: Split level three-bedroom home on one acre of beautifully wooded land. House is partially completed; finish it as you like. More acreage available if desired.
• New listing, Knollwood Village: This three-bedroom home features lovely living room with cherry paneling and woodburning fireplace; kitchen with Scheichrich birch cabinets and GE dishwasher and disposal; tile bath with built-in lavatory and dressing table. Separate laundry room and half-bath with entry directly from double garage. Rear flagstone patio with view of deep wooded lot. Quick possession due to transfer of owner.
• North: A three-bedroom, one floor plan home in exceptionally fine condition. Full basement with gas furnace. Storms and screens. Well landscaped lot, 86'x127'. Best of financing available; 4 1/2% loan can be assumed.
• Lincoln Drive: Owner has been transferred from this three-bedroom home. Living room with cathedral ceiling, indirect lighting and sliding window wall to rear patio. Three spacious bedrooms plus family room or fourth bedroom. Tile bath with built-in lavatory and linen closet. Attached garage. The newest in contemporary design, at a price within your means.
• East: Three bedroom-home on beautifully landscaped lot, 120' deep. Youngstown kitchen with built-in cabinets. Stove, refrigerator and automatic washer go with the house, plus built-in air conditioner. All newly decorated and in excellent condition at a price within your means — under $11,000.
• Centrally located: Business and home investment property. Welding shop with all equipment, plus 12-room house with all furniture. House now has two rental apartments upstairs, with separate entrance; owner lives downstairs.
• South end: Here is a real buy, for owner has told us to sell at a new price. This five-room house is in good condition and has all utilities available. Located on a double lot, it gives you a vacant building lot as a bonus.
• East: Here is your chance to buy an older home in sound condition and in a very good neighborhood, in the medium price bracket. Living room with fireplace, dining room, TV room and family-size kitchen, down, three bedrooms and bath up. Furnace in basement; garage and workshop; nice fenced yard with trees and shrubs.
• East: Four-room home in best of condition, on lot 123' deep. Living room and one bedroom have corner windows, knotty pine walls. Kitchen and second bedroom have jalousie windows. Aluminum storms and self-storing screens. Attractive carport.
• Tarlton: One story, four-room house just one year old, with bath, gas furnace. Hardwood floors; living room approximately 17x11. Built-in sink and cabinets in kitchen, tile floor. Venetian blinds. All utilities.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Returning GI Debate Brews

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the letter in which "ANXIOUS MOTHER" wrote that her son had been away in the service for two years. He was married shortly before he left and his wife asked his parents if she could meet him alone. If you think there is any room for argument about whether she had a right to ask or not then you are nuts! My husband is also in the service. When he comes home I certainly do not want his mother and father standing around to meet him. I think the wife should come first. If parents really love their sons they will let him have his first few minutes alone with his wife.

ARMY WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Since when does a WIFE have the right to ask the parents of her husband to please stay home when he returns from a long stretch in the service? We met both of our boys when they came home and stood right alongside their wives to greet them. We hung back a little and let them kiss their wives first. Naturally we let the kids go off by themselves but we know for a fact that our boys wanted us to meet them, and if their wives had any objections nobody ever said anything.

MOTHER OF FOUR SERVICEMEN

DEAR ABBY: When our boy came home from Germany after 36 months his Dad and I stayed home because we thought there might be plenty of tears when his little wife and baby met him at the train and we didn't want to embarrass them. They came right to our house and we didn't mind waiting that extra half hour.

DEAR ABBY: I certainly can't agree with the advice you gave ANXIOUS MOTHER. Just because the daughter-in-law ASKED the parents to let her meet her husband alone doesn't mean the parents have to do it. Most sons would feel terrible if their parents didn't meet them. I think you ought to print that letter again and change your answer.

MRS. F. W.

DEAR MRS. F. W.: Sorry, but if the daughter-in-law ASKED the parents to let her meet her husband alone, the parents should let her. It is WRONG for a daughter-in-law to make such a selfish request, but if she makes the request, right or wrong, the parents should respect it.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a boy who has been overseas for 18 months. When he comes home it will take more than his wife to stop me from going to meet him.

LONESOME MOTHER

Bing Crosby Is Granddad Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bing Crosby is a grandfather for the second time.

Ex-showgirl Sandra Drummond, the wife of Bing's son, Philip, gave birth to a 5-pound 3-ounce daughter Wednesday. She was named Dixie Lee after Philip's mother, who died in 1952 after a long illness.

The couple was married last Sept. 25. Last December, Philip's twin, Dennis and his wife, ex-chorus girl Pat Sheehan, had their first child — a boy.

Handicapped Children Survey Done

An extensive survey was recently conducted to determine if Circleville has any children eligible to attend the Ohio State School for the Blind and the Ohio State School for the Deaf.

This survey was conducted from each classroom. Teachers and pupils spotted any eligible deaf or blind child from 3 to 16 years of age in need of help beyond the range of the public school. A long list of handicapped children were reported. Walter Denman called at each home to check each child on the list. When in doubt, Mrs. Doris White, the speech and hearing therapist, and Mrs. Pauline Kirkpatrick, the school nurse, checked the child carefully.

No new cases were found that would benefit from the state school or from a special class conducted here in Circleville.

THE BOARD of Education pays tuition on three children that are attending the Indiana School for the Deaf in Columbus. To the board's knowledge, the three people above are all that need to be reported on the list for Columbus. If anyone knows of any child with hearing or sight difficulty not being cared for properly, please report them to the superintendent of schools.

It would take approximately 20 badly handicapped hearing pupils and 20 handicapped blind children plus properly equipped rooms and special teachers to make such classes practical in Circleville.

Relief Soars To $12,905

Pickaway County general relief soared to its highest peak during 1959 as it hit $12,905.66 in April or $294.06 higher than the former top in February of $12,611.60.

The amount paid to indigent families was $8,105.72 higher than the same month of 1957 and $5,375.50 above the same month of last year.

A total of $4,436.34 was paid out for home care and $8,469.32 in medical and hospital care. Hospital and medical care was the figure that swelled April's relief amount.

There were 158 relief cases in April compared to 143 in April of 1957 and 159 cases in April 1958. Expected employment has not developed as hope thus far this year.

Maris Jende Is Appointed To West Point

Maris Jende, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jende, Kingston, has received an appointment to West Point, the United States Military Academy.

This is not a congressional appointment, but is the result of a competitive examination, which Maris took at Fort Knox in March 1959.

The National Guard is allowed to furnish 50 candidates from the U.S. each year. Out of the hundreds who took the examination, Maris was successful in passing it, and receiving the appointment.

The Jendes are natives of Latvia. Mrs. Jende has an M.A. degree from the University of Riga, and Mr. Jende is a graduate of the Latvian Naval Academy, and spent seven years as a Captain in the Latvian Navy.

The Jendes were farming when the Russians took Latvia, and they were driven out of Latvia to concentration camps. After spending four years in various camps, they were able to get to America June 10, 1949, and have lived on the George L. Borders farm ever since.

THE FAMILY is now American citizens and are appreciative of everything this country has done for them, and are anxious to make the most of every opportunity.

There are three boys in the family, John, a senior at Ohio University; Maris, who graduated from Kingston High School in 1958, and Aris, who is a junior in high school.

Maris was born in Riga, Latvia and came to U. S. at the age of 12. Besides being a good student Maris has been active in church youth groups, 4-H club work, and Hi-Y.
